New York City’s charter school workforce continues to grow. This year, there are an estimated 10,500 classroom teachers serving an estimated 129,000 charter school students. These educators are the driving force behind the success of NYC’s charter school students.

- 10,500 estimated number of teachers employed in NYC charter schools for the 2019-20 school year
- 1:12 average teacher to student ratio in NYC charter schools
- 50% of charter school teachers are educators of color
- 38% of charter school teachers have been teaching for 6 years or longer
- 56% percent of charter school teachers hold a Master’s Degree or Doctorate
- $68,800 average base salary of a NYC charter school teacher

1 Unless otherwise noted all data is derived from publicly available 2018-2019 NYSED reporting.
2 Based on 2016-17 NYSED classroom teacher demographic data, the most recent available.